

Angie McLeod, HIP Strategic Consulting

Conversation Starter & Facilitator
Non Profit Strategist & Leadership Coach
Entrepreneurial Coach

"Angie understands the non-profit world and has so many ideas to offer, presented in a fun and friendly style."

Sunny Schiller, Coordinator
Maple Ridge Pitt Meadows
Katzie Community Network

604.476.2447 | angie@hipstrategic.com | www.hipstrategic.com

Ignite Ideas | Invite discovery.

Angie McLeod, Non-Profit Strategist and Consultant, of HIP Strategic Consulting brings a wealth of experience, knowledge, tips and tricks to her presentations.

As a skilled presenter and conversationalist, Angie's aptitude for posing questions that ignite ideas and invite discovery among listeners is sure to stir your audience!

Conversational Intelligence

Shift your Conversations from Good to Great.

Statistics show that 9/10 conversations fail to achieve their goal. And yet, in conversations are central to everything we do. Deepen your work relationships and improve communication by learning some easy to implement Conversational Intelligence® techniques.

Building Trust Relationships

Trust is the cornerstone of every relationship we have. Trust takes time to earn and can be lost in an instant. Learn how to use simple Conversational Intelligence® tools to build stronger trust relationships.

Non-Profit Management

Take the Fear Out of Networking: Be Curious!

Questions and curiosity build authentic relationships with those you meet at networking events and shift the focus away from the traditional networking spiel. Discover the questions that shift conversations, build trust, and open up conversations in new and exciting way so you can grow strong relationships that build your community impact.

SOARing to Success: 5 Benefits of Strategic Planning

A 5 year strategic plan and an annual action plan can turn your organization around when used to guide decision making, drive actions, and ensure the focus stays on the important activities. Join us to learn how you can help your organization SOAR to success through strategic planning.

From Scarcity to Abundance: 3 Tips for Non-Profit Leaders

Faced with a non-profit that isn't thriving? You aren't alone. Many non-profits are looking for ways to create sustainable futures. For many non-profits to realize their full potential, an internal cultural shift is required that starts by adopting entrepreneurial practices.

Bio

Angie McLeod, HIP Strategic Consulting, is passionate about conversations: conversations that connect people, stimulate ideas, produce change, and engage participants in collective discovery and co-creation; conversations that enrich the community as a whole.

Closely interwoven with the need for more conversation, is a desire to strengthen the capacity of the organizations and non-profit leaders with whom she works. The idea of "if you give a man a fish, you feed him for a day; if you teach a man to fish, you feed him for a lifetime" is fundamental to Angie's philosophy on life.

Angie's passion for life, business, and community combined with over 15+ years of consulting and coaching non-profit leaders while running her own for-profit business, has shown Angie that it is time for radical change in the non-profit sector – and in the wider community.

It's time to bring business practices to the non-profits, and non-profit practices to the business community for stronger, more resilient communities.

It's time to move from talk > action > accountability > results to create a more resilient and sustainable community that recognizes and celebrates the contributions of both the for-profit business and non-profit sectors.

It's time to work together for the benefit of all.

Conversational
INTELLIGENCE® | Enhanced Skills
for Coaches Practitioner